This NBC News/Marist Poll Reports:

In the race for U.S. Senate in Arkansas, Democratic incumbent Mark Pryor is ahead of Republican Tom Cotton, 51% to 40%, among registered voters statewide including those who are undecided yet leaning toward a candidate. Two percent support another candidate, and 7% are undecided.

“These results give us a sense of who is ahead among all potential voters,” says Dr. Lee M. Miringoff, Director of The Marist College Institute for Public Opinion. “As we get closer to November, polling will be able to identify the character of the electorate for this election cycle.”

Key points:

- Party ID. A partisan divide exists. Most Democrats -- 89% -- back Pryor while only 5% are for Cotton. Among Republicans, most -- 85% -- support Cotton compared with 10% for Pryor. Among independents, Pryor edges Cotton, 48% to 41%.
- Gender. There is a gender gap. A majority of women voters -- 55% -- are for Pryor while 35% are behind Cotton. Men divide. 46% of male voters support Pryor while the same proportion -- 46% -- backs Cotton.
- Race. While 85% of African American voters support Pryor, white voters divide. 46% of white voters support Pryor while the same proportion -- 46% -- are for Cotton.
- White Evangelical Christians. Cotton leads Pryor, 58% to 36%, among registered voters who are white and describe themselves as Evangelical Christians. One percent supports another candidate, and 5% are undecided.

How the Survey was Conducted

Nature of the Sample: NBC News/Marist Poll of 1,174 Arkansas Adults

This survey of 1,174 adults was conducted April 30th through May 4th, 2014 by The Marist Poll sponsored in partnership with NBC News. Adults 18 years of age and older residing in the state of Arkansas were interviewed by telephone using live interviewers. Landline telephone numbers were randomly selected based upon a list of telephone exchanges from throughout the state of Arkansas from ASDE Survey Sampler, Inc. To increase coverage, this landline sample was supplemented by respondents reached through random dialing of cell phone numbers from Survey Sampling International. The two samples were then combined and balanced to reflect the 2010 Census results for age, gender, income, and race. Respondents in the household were selected by asking for the youngest male. Results are statistically significant within  $\pm 2.9$  percentage points. There are 876 registered voters. The results for this subset are statistically significant within  $\pm 3.3$  percentage points. The error margin increases for cross-tabulations.
